A general rule, I have no official means of ascertaining the periods during which Professors are absent from lectures during the College vacations.

I infer from your circular No 64 of the 23rd June 1859, that as President, I am not allowed to be absent from lectures for more than 15 days in each vacation, if I wish to retain my claim to privilege leave, and that, if I am absent for a longer time, I must, in the Sanction, place a Professor in charge, but, except in this special case, Professors have no duty in their College during the vacations, & I know nothing officially about their movements.
