

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION: ANEW HEIGHT

BIVAS CHAUDHURI

Secretary
Presidency College Alumni Association

It is a matter of pride and satisfaction for all alumni that the new government has acknowledged the importance of excellence in the sacred domain of education and conferred a special status rightly to Presidency University, by creating a mentor group with Shri Amartya Sen as the chief advisor and also by promulgating a separate ordinance for governing Presidency with a view of making it a centre of excellence. Perhaps, for the first time, the role of the Alumni Association in transforming Presidency University into a Centre of Excellence has been so well pronounced. The chairman of the mentor group Shri Sugata Bose himself interacted with the alumni members in the last Annual General Meeting to understand and share the expectations from each other. Of late, the policy makers have recognised the non-political, constructive and goodwill of the Association and are consulting it for the cause of development of the university. It is matter of fact that the association has played a key role in transformation of the college into a University. However, the role of the Alumni Association needs to be acknowledged by the government officially by offering a nomination, may be ex-officio, to its representative in the policy making body of the University.

The calendar year 2011 has been eventful for the Association. We can organise more academic programmes this year. With a view to assisting the University financially for creating academic chairs and offering infrastructural help, a registered Presidency Alumni Trust Fund has been created on 9 September, 2011. As suggested by the mentor group, the Association is also working on establishing chapters at UK and USA for generating funds and attracting talents to the University. From the year 2012, the Association will provide two scholarships in the name of Presidency Alumni Scholarship to the students ranking first in the University in arts and science group at the undergraduate level.

Santiniketan programme during 2-3 December was very interesting. The excellent hospitality extended by Shri Anindya Mitra, Shri Jayanta Mitra and Smt Rupa Bandopadhyay individually at their respective houses in Santiniketan to all alumni and their family members needs a special mention. Kaleidoscopic cultural programme like santhali dance, baul song and rabindrasangeet by alumni members were added attraction. A classical programme with Shri Partha Bose on the sitar and Shri Swapan Chaudhuri on the tabla was organised on 22 December, at the GD Birla Sabhagriha at 6:30 pm. This programme was sponsored by the Khadder Group. The association and the sponsor also felicitated alumni Shri Anindya Mitra, Pt Budhhadeb Dasgupta, Shri Sugata Marjit for their contribution to classical music.

There is a common complaint from the members of not receiving information about the programmes. Actually, paucity of funds has rendered us incapable of advertising each and every programme in the newspapers or intimating by post. However, all programmes are announced well in advance in our website www.presidencyalumnical.com.

The year 2011 has turned out to be an extraordinarily eventful year for the Alumni Association which has been possible only with the support from our alumni members and well-wishers. This time we fervently appeal to all our alumni to donate generously to the Presidency Alumni Trust Fund. Compared to our peer group, we receive very less financial support from our alumni members for undertaking some creative work. Most of our alumni became members with one-time life membership subscription of Rs. 250/- or Rs. 750/- long time back. The average annual budget of the association is around Rs. 8 lakhs which only very few members gather by strenuous endeavours. Such fund is spent for academic and cultural programmes, serving sumptuous refreshments during the Founders' day celebration and AGM and providing the journal Autumn Annual, for which no additional cost is charged to the members. Notwithstanding this expenditure, since last five years, addition to the coffer has been accelerated with a minimum deposit of at least Rs. 2 lakhs per annum. The association has already announced that from the year 2012, the Presidency Alumni Scholarship will be awarded to the students ranking first in arts and sciences. Therefore, at this rying need of the hour, when the newly formed university is marching towards becoming a centre of excellence, alumni ought to muster strength to fulfil the expectation of the University and the mentor group by accumulating funds to provide support. This may be considered as an appeal to our alumni members to donate generously to the Trust Fund.

Finally, it appears necessary to reiterate that the Association is a platform for all alumni with two primary objectives of establishing a great Presidency family by bringing all together and assisting the University wherever necessary, as a token of love, attachment and respect towards the alma mater. All our programmes are primarily performed and attended by our alumni family only. We carry a different responsibility.
